Agenda Item:

I. CONFERENCE WITH LEGAL COUNSEL (INITIATION OF LITIGATION) (Government Code Section 54956.9(d)(4)) a) Based upon existing facts and circumstances, the City Council will be considering joining as amicus in the case of Robert Martin v City of Boise (Case No. 1:09-cv-00540-REB) as an amicus curiae.
b) In addition, the Council will consider initiating litigation in another matter.
Number of Cases: 2

Comment:

I support Manhattan Beach joining as amicus curiae in the case Martin vs City of Boise. As Judge M. Smith stated, the rationale of 9th circuit decision will de facto prevent local governments from enforcing a host of public health and safety laws, including those prohibiting public defecation and urination, as also these activities can be easily deemed a consequence of being human. It shackles your hands when it comes to address homelessness. Lucia La Rosa Ames

Comment:

The unanimous vote by the Manhattan Beach City Council to amend and enforce the anti-camping ordinance was a solid representation of the citizens of this city.
We must act on and support the "friend of the court" briefs with Boise, ID. We cannot allow the politically driven and influenced 9th Circuit Court of Appeals to negate the decisions of city councils across the courts covered regions. The citizens have the power and have spoken in regions where the anti camping laws are chosen(continued)

I support Manhattan Beach joining as amicus in the case of Martin v. City of Boise as an amicus curiae. Cities must have tools to respond to the public health and safety crisis created by homelessness.

Comment:

I support Manhattan Beach joining as amicus in the case of Martin v. City of Boise as an amicus curiae. The Martin precedent is a gross overreach by the 9th Circuit and a potentially severe impediment to enforcing anti-camping ordinances that could ultimately lead to more and more situations with unrestrained homeless encampments on public property as we've seen in Venice, Santa Monica and Los Angeles.
